The New Munhumutapa: President Mnangagwa Celebrates 82nd Birthday In Style

President Emmerson Mnangagwa on Sunday 15 September celebrated his 82nd birthday in style by splashing over US$2.5 million at a gathering held at Great Zimbabwe Monuments in Masvingo. President Mnangagwa made sure that youths had to forget about their daily struggles like unemployment and El Nino induced drought by pampering them with chicken inn boxes and free opaque beer. Like his predecessor, Cde Robert Mugabe who turned his 21st February birthday into a public holiday, there are suggestions from ZANU PF structures to turn 15 September into a public holiday as a way of celebrating President Mnangagwa New Dispensation successes.

Some of the notable successes of President Mnangagwa include introduction of new Zimbabwe Gold local currency which is the strongest currency in Africa. The President has also managed to bring in investors like Wicknell Chivhayo who is easing transport challenges for most citizens through his Aqua car gifts.

Befittingly, President Mnangagwa has now assumed Munhumutapa title after successfully destroying a puppet opposition funded by the West. Unlike his predecessor, Cde Robert Mugabe, President Mnangagwa has effectively outlawed opposition politics and civil society by criminalising all their regime change meetings.

President Mnangagwa fits the Munhumutapa jacket very well having taken control of most of the mines and farms in the country. Of course, who can begrudge him after nearly succumbing to ice cream poisoning while fighting criminals who were surrounding former President Robert Mugabe.

The one party state agenda is alive and all thanks to the visionary leadership of President Mnangagwa. The Patriotic and PVO Acts will come hard on Western backed opposition and civil society who are bent on reversing gains of the liberation struggle.

Chimombe and Mpofu caged for bad table manners

By True Patriots Investigating team.

The story of the duo of Mike Chimombe and his accomplice Mpofu is a reminder of the need to stick to official secrecy if you have access to the high table of Munhumutapa. Munhumutapa is a generous leader who rewards all cadres loyal to the ruling ZANU PF party. The High Priest of the land however frowns on those who fail to protect deals secured from the high office.

The naivety of Chimombe and Mpofu is beyond shocking, the two leaked critical documents that could harm national interests in the vain hope of coercing the obedient Son Wicknell Chivhayo to release more funds from a Zimbabwe Electoral Commission, ZEC deal.

Western Media picked the scent from the leaked documents and released damning evidence to the Republic. Reports of inflating procurement figures with over 30 000% are a serious cause of concern as they can lead to alarm and despondency among the masses of our people. Chimombe and Mpofu have to pay for that grave sin.

It is impossible for the Munhumutapa to go public explaining to the nation how the money was spent. Chimombe and his accomplice naively assumed that Chivayo blew all the money, that's not true at all. In his wisdom the Head of State facilitated this deal to ensure that all those involved in the election process got some motivation to protect the vote from going in favor of the Western Sponsored opposition.

Isaac Moyo and his Central Intelligence team got a fair share for their efforts as they were also the brains and muscle behind the game changing Forever Associates Zimbabwe, FAZ. No one can dispute that FAZ played a critical role in defending the vote from foreign interests.

The ZEC team led by the able Priscilla Chigumba also deserved a share from the loot. Zimbabweans should recall how ZEC has defended the gains of the liberation struggle in the last 2 elections. In 2018 they had to secure last minute votes in Mashonaland Central, in a manner that forced the opposition to petition the revolutionary courts seeking recourse. The courts were equal to the task throwing out the petition with the contempt it deserved. In the August 2023 elections the ZEC made a more daring step refusing to release the figures from individual polling stations. The opposition was deflated and never recovered. So rewarding this ZEC team was mandatory and Mpofu and Chimombe should have known better.

Chief Secretary Martin Rushwaya handled the other payments which should remain confidential to protect national interests.

Scott Sakupwanya whose company was used to facilitate this deal of national importance never complained because he is now a veteran. Sakupwanya has handled bigger deals for the nation on behalf of the Munhumutapa. He doesn't receive all that is due to him but he knows that the President knows better.

Chimombe was obviously influenced by his Uncle Chiyangwa who still harbor some ambitions of restoring the now vanquished Zezuru supremacy. Those remnants of the G40 cabal should be reminded that Munhumutapa will rule to his grave and will leave the Karanga ethnic group firmly in charge.

As Mpofo and Chimombe wallow in prison for the botched goat deals, they should be reminded never to spill the beans on how much of the money was pocketed by Munhumutapa. They will not make it out of those cages if they play with fire.

Meanwhile Chivhayo and Sakupwanya are set to win more tenders as they have proven their loyalty to the national cause without any doubt. Chivhayo has since deployed proceeds from the ZEC deal and ZESA lawsuit to buy vehicles for artists and other loyal cadres of the party. This is a demonstration of patriotism deserving recognition.

Michael Reza of ZACC who made a lot of misdirected noise when the ZEC deal came to light has now been fully briefed and has since moved on to other cases. ZACC should focus on serious issues like paid extra lessons by teachers. The people are being fleeced in broad daylight by lazy teachers.

ZEC deal is officially closed.

Patriotic Judiciary Heeds ZANU PF Call To Release HRDs and Opposition Members

The country's patriotic judicial system has heeded calls by the revolutionary ruling ZANU PF party to release all human rights defenders and opposition members who wanted to disturb peace during the recently SADC summit that installed President Emmerson Mnangagwa as chairman.

The courts' move to grant bail to various human rights defenders and opposition members after instruction from ZANU PF spokesperson, Christopher Mutsvangwa to have them released is a commendable sign of loyalty and patriotism.

Munhumutapa as President Mnangagwa is now being referred to following his coronation as SADC chairman has previously stated that the courts and ZANU PF are siamese twins. "We are the army, the police, the judiciary....We are everything", the famous words by Munhumutapa President Mnangagwa have now come to pass.

The opposition and human rights activists like Robson Chere, Namatai Kwekweza and Samuel Gwenzi owe ZANU PF a big thank you for directing the courts to release them otherwise they could have been languishing at Chikurubi Maximum prison for daring Munhumutapa in the presence of SADC visitors.

As a show of patriotism and loyalty to the ruling party, the judiciary must be commended for releasing almost all trouble makers (mhesvamukono) now that SADC summit is over.

Africa's Strongest Currency, ZiG Holding Fort Against USD

By Business News Reporter

Despite efforts to discredit our Zimbabwe Gold (ZiG) currency by detractors and regime change agents, ZiG is holding fort against imperialistic currency, US dollar.

Never mind about the recent blip against US dollar, ZiG is still the strongest currency in Africa. President Emmerson Mnangagwa and his cabinet ministers are all leading by example as they use local currency for trading.

We all saw that during President Mnangagwa's birthday celebrations one of our loyal Ministers, Hon Tino Machakaire mistakenly donated US$70 000 as a birthday present to His Excellence after he could not find his ZiG notes in his pockets. Some time earlier this year, President Mnangagwa also mistakenly donated the useless US$ 800 to an old party dancer after he failed to locate his precious ZiG notes from his wallet.

The government has since declared a war against economic saboteurs seeking to devalue our powerful currency through illegal foreign currency trading. ZANU PF spokesperson, Cde Christopher Mutsvangwa's son, Neville was erroneously up in the cross fire hence he is not going to face further prosecution. After all his parents fought for the freedom we all enjoy.

The government is worried by some unpatriotic businesses that are pushing a regime change agenda by refusing to trade in ZiG currency opting for currency of our US detractors. Of course state enterprises like ZBC, ZINARA, ZESA and passport offices can charge services in US in order to help government to fight sanctions.

ZiG currency can only be used within the country's borders as a way of protecting our currency from abuse by imperialists since it is back by our gold.

Returnees returning to the Revolutionary Party, coming back home

By True Patriots Investigating team

The statement that it is cold out there never rings true unless you leave ZANU PF and wander into the political wilderness of the opposition that is riddled with poverty, lacking the conviction of nepotism, lacking the support of captured state institutions such as the Police, Army, the courts of law and more importantly close proximity to Munhumutapa, ShumbaMurambwi, His Excellency, Commander of the Defense Forces President Emmerson Dambudzo Mnangagwa.

On the 18th of September common sense wind reigned supreme emerging from Masvingo with Cde Dzikamai whom we branded a sellout when he joined the opposition is no longer a sellout after his presentation at State House to Munhumutapa who blessed him alongside other former opposition legislators and supporters. Cde Mavhaire who has a sprawling business empire that he is keen to protect testified that he saw the light and realized that his sojourn in opposition politics was a venture into nonsense as the opposition did not possess the capacity to empower him.

Cde Mavhaire joins a long list of former ZANU PF members turned opposition members who then are now ZANU PF members again. The Returnees Desk led by Cde Chebundo who once defeated President Mnangagwa in Parliamentary elections, Memory Sibanda the ex wife of loud mouth Prince Dubeko Sibanda who joined ZANU PF after settling her divorce and Lillian Timveos who is a former opposition senator and has had joint business interests in Midlands Province for the past 20 years with Munhumutapa has had a busy year welcoming returnees from the opposition.

The flocking of opposition members is testament to the visionary and able leadership of Munhumutapa, his handling of the economy, Munhumutapa is the only President who has managed to convert the 95 percent unemployment rate to indigenous and self employed workers, Zimbabwe is now full of vendors and small businesses of people who are self sufficient.

SADC Chairmanship comes with responsibilities for all Zimbabweans

Editorial

In a clear demonstration of adherence to democratic principles, norms and values, the Head of State declared on 17 September 2024 that all Zimbabwean Citizens are now chairing SADC, not him alone.

This message should be enough to silence critics who were blaming Munhumutapa for blowing resources towards hosting the SADC summit. The summit was for all of us and we can now all Chair the regional body.

Now being a chairperson comes with responsibilities. There is some decorum expected of the high office. It is now incumbent upon each Zimbabwean to conduct themselves in a manner befitting the SADC chairperson's office. Those who choose to bring the name of the chair's office into disrepute will face the consequences at law.

It is hoped that all the noise that was being done around corruption comes to an end. All SADC chairpersons in Zimbabwe should not publicize information damaging the brand of a chairing nation. Most of what is being called corruption is gift exchange as government appreciates different patriots who are offering outstanding services.

It will be embarrassing to hear some

SADC Chair complaining about rigged elections. Why do we have to focus on our local elections when we are Chairing a region with 16 countries. The chapter of the 2023 elections is closed, Zimbabwe should focus on development until the Munhumutapa chooses to either retire or join his maker.

Mhesvamukono who continue to agitate for protests are tarnishing the image of the Chair. All patriots are encouraged to enjoy this stint of chairing without engaging sideshows. Honestly why protesting when you are chairing?

Zimbabweans should endure the drought and take every economic hardship with a stride. The noise about Zig performance should come to an end. SADC chairs are not cry babies.

Stop Stadia Rehabilitation Noise, We Are Always At Home In Africa

By Sports Reporter

Despite the Warriors putting in a vintage performance against Cameroon earlier this month at home in Uganda some Western sponsored puppets are still making noise concerning refurbishment of stadia in Zimbabwe.

With President Emmerson Mnangagwa now chairing the whole SADC countries it should sink into the minds of critics that we now own all beautiful stadiums in those countries as our home grounds.

The government promised to make sure the National Sports Stadium is ready to host international matches by June this year but as you already know our Olympian Sports Minister, Cde Kirsty Coventry will be busy with other personal pressing commitments. She therefore gave another deadline which is January 2025 and if she fails to meet the target, Cde Coventry can always give another date as per our norm.

Zimbabwe chose a perfect home ground by playing our home match against Cameroon in Uganda since President Yoweri Museveni has everything in common with President Mnangagwa. Just like President Mnangagwa, President Museveni is also fighting Western sponsored puppets like Bobi Wine.

Zimbabwe does not need to bother herself blowing billions of our strongest ZiG currency on stadia refurbishment. Why worry when other African countries have already built stadia for us?

Up next, the Warriors will play Namibia away before hosting the same nation on any African nation we settle for.
